Summary of Qualifications

I am currently teaching Multimedia Authoring, a software class at The Ohio State University, as well as Interning with PBS Ohio Channel, and freelancing graphic design. Teaching has become my passion, as it allows me to learn and to be challenged daily. As a production assistant I have harnessed my potential to work as part of an amazing team of visual content producers. As a freelancer, I have the opportunity to problem solve with a myriad of diverse clients. Several references are available upon request.
